

This is what's happening in Cohousing Now!

CohoUS update

CohoUS is not only continuing to gather/post/organize content on the website, maintain the directory, and produce online conferences; but we also hold space for current happenings that impact cohousers nationwide.

Help a Launching Community!

Do you know a cohousing group that is just getting started? Are they shopping for land? Are they meeting for coffee? Tell them about the CohoUS Community Launch program!

We can be of support to forming communities by offering advertising, marketing guidance, resources and connections!

We want to hear from you.

CohoUS is asking for your feedback on how the association can better serve you and your community, and what we should be focusing on during these troubling times for America. There has never been a time when the community building principles and benefits of cohousing have been more relevant. CohoUS is attempting to respond to these challenging times in ways that benefit our new and existing communities and the larger American culture and sustainability. We respectfully request your response to the following few questions.

- 1. How are you and your cohousing neighbors fairing and reacting during the current health crisis and the racial inequity awareness?
- 2. What needs or wants might you have from CohoUS? What issues should the association be focusing on?
- 3. What type of association programs and events are most helpful to you and your community?
- 4. What CohoUS activities would you be interested and willing to help support or participate in?
