Creating Cohousing Memories ... while Cooking a Community Dinner!

Watch for cohousing.org blog posts, as we dig through the archives to share recipes for community meals. Who remembers Sandy's Scramble? Or Doug's Famous Lentil Loaf? Do you have a favorite? Email it to office@cohaus.org

Check out our New Website Page: Resources for Professionals

This is a page for cohousing professionals, the folks that help communities become communities and help them thrive. This page has resources, information, and training programs that will help you serve cohousing communities. If you know of resources that belong on this page, let us know by emailing karencohaus@gmail.com. The cohousing movement needs more professionals including architects, developers, process consultants, and more.!

We Need Your Financial Support!

The Cohousing Association of US exists to expand and enrich the community of cohousing. Cohousing shifts the culture toward a new American dream where everyone is surrounded by caring, collaborative neighbors, lives an abundant life, and uses fewer of the earth's resources. If you believe cohousing is right for you and your family, please help make it more accessible to others by supporting CohoUS with an investment in our future. Click here to give.

Re-Opening Cohousing 2021

CohoUS invites you to participate in a nationwide celebration on June 26, 2021.

Re-opening is happening both suddenly and gradually. It is both joyful and challenging. It involves discussions and decisions, new protocols and a return to old habits. In the midst of all that, we are proposing a day of celebration.

We're setting aside our all-day-on-zoom event on June 26 because we suspect that connecting in that way is not what most folks are up for just now. Instead, we're inviting communities to use that day to celebrate, play, enjoy each other, and share the experience with us through photos and a short show-and-tell zoom call. Thanks for reading! Please forward to your friends, communities, and other lists to spread the word about cohousing!

The Cohousing Association is funded by donations from people like YOU. Thanks so much for your support!
